WILLESDEN, MIDDLESEX.—36 Plots of Freehold Building Land, adjoining the Willesden Station, 3½ miles from Paddington.

BAKER and SON have received instructions to LET by AUCTION, at the MART, on THURSDAY, June 10, at Twelve, on Building Leases for 99 years, to the bidder of the best ground rent, 36 plots of fine FREEHOLD BUILDING LAND, with excellent frontages to the road leading from the Harrow Turnpike-road, at Harlesden-green, to Acton, and running east and west of the Willesden Station of the North Western Railway, which divides the lots, and affords quick and cheap transit into the heart of the City, being within about 40 minutes of Fenchurch-street, enabling men of business securing a site here to enjoy the healthful relaxations of a country residence, without at all interfering with business pursuits in the crowded metropolis. The situation is very rural, healthy, and at all seasons presents the freshness and verdure peculiar to a fine, undulating, rich meadow and pasture district, handsomely timbered. A branch line connecting the North, South, and Great Western Railways will shortly be opened, with a station near this property, which being only just removed from the suburbs of London must necessarily be trebled in value in a very few years, offering a most safe and profitable investment as a building speculation. May be viewed 14 days prior.—Particulars and plans had at the Mart (where a draft of the proposed leases will be deposited for inspection one week previous to the sale); at the Railway Hotel, Harlesden; of Messrs. J. E. Pappus and Thomas, Solicitors, Fareham, Hants; and of the Auctioneers, Kilburn.
